Castellon Plastic Surgery Center Founder, Dr. Mauricio J. Castellon Invited to Speak at 2018 International Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgery Conference

MELBOURNE, FLA – Thursday, October 25, 2018 – Mauricio J. Castellon, MD, FACS, Melbourne based board-certified Plastic Surgeon, and founder of the Castellon Plastic Surgery Center, has been invited to speak at the 2018 International Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgery Conference (ISAPS) in Miami, Florida on November 2. ISAPS hosts the world's largest annual meeting of board-certified aesthetic plastic surgeons. The annual conference, which will be held at the Miami Beach Convention Center, will feature 393 of the absolute best world-class faculty representing 98 countries in an innovative, exciting scientific program that is both cutting edge and very diverse, covering all aspects of aesthetic surgery and cosmetic medicine through presentations, lectures, panel discussions and demonstrations.

“This conference is the best opportunity to meet and hear directly from experts in the field of aesthetic surgery and cosmetic medicine and I am honored to be included as a presenter,” said Dr. Mauricio Castellon.

Dr. Castellon will speak Friday, November 2 in Session 22: Breast Mastopexy/Reduction & Reconstruction on “Sub-Glandular Versus Sub-Pectoral Augmentation - Are We Coming Full Circle?” As a well-known, leading surgeon in Brevard County and Central Florida, Dr. Castellon will offer insight into the latest trends and surgical techniques used in breast augmentation, lift, and reconstruction. He will provide valuable scientific research and lesson learned from his own surgical experiences.
